Introduction

In the current issue of the Financial Sciences magazine, articles introducing various areas are presented. However, it is the banking subject matter that dominates. I. Alyeksyeyev and A. Mazur present the comparative analysis of the protection deposit system in relation to the Ukrainian regulations. I. Alyeksyeyev and O. Pozniakova deal with the comparison of the ownership transformation in banking system in Poland and Ukraine. The importance of banks in green and digital transformation is presented in the scientific description written by B. Ryszawska. The analysis of imperfections of economic information transmitted by banks is shown in the article by E. Wiszniowski. I. Alyeksyeyev, S. Paranchuk and O. Chervinska present the problems of companies' taxation and tax planning. The paper written by I. Kondrat and O. Kots is more interdisciplinary. The research refers to the relations between financial deepening of the banking system and economic growth.

We hope that the current issue will become an interesting piece of reading.
